The MyCom network connects Greater Cleveland’s young people with high-quality, neighborhood-based programs and services that provide engaging, educational and affordable opportunities in a safe and supportive environment – helping them to connect, navigate and be productive so they can grow, thrive and reach their true potential. Bellaire Puritas Development Corporation is the neighborhood organization leading the West Park MyCom initiative. This network of youth-serving agencies, parents, youth, school staff and community members meets on a quarterly basis to share resources and collaborate on neighborhood initiatives.
